6. Amundi Pioneer: Annual Update from Investment Manager – Katie Morrison and Meredith Birdsall

Morrison spoke on the final steps of Pioneer's transition to Amundi's integrated platform. The integration of Pioneer and Amundi has led to several organizational changes that have allowed both managers access to a deeper breadth of research analysts and trade platform capabilities with very little organizational overlap. Birdsall reviewed continued outperformance of the benchmark in 3Q18, year-to-date and projected 2% annualized returns for 2018. Multi-sector allocations, shorter durations, TIPS and municipal exposure are contributors towards both upside performance and downside protection. Birdsall concluded with long term views on risk and exposure. Based on global illiquidity forecasts, Amundi Pioneer foresees reducing exposure to higher risk investments and focusing on adding exposure to Treasuries and agency-backed mortgages to lower risk and position themselves defensively.

7. Consideration and Possible Action Regarding Investment Committee Report

A. ACG: Review and Discussion of Monthly ASAP Reports

Moore began the discussion with a broad market overview, citing volatile current month activity could eliminate any positive returns from quarter-end. Information technology selloffs, rising interest rates and ongoing threats of tariffs and trade wars have contributed to headwinds in the current market. Moore reiterated active portfolio management and fundamentals will help navigate through bumpy markets.

Moore continued with a high-level overview of both DB and DC portfolios. Domestic equities have proven to be the driver of results of both portfolios, while non-US equities and emerging markets have presented hurdles due to a strong US dollar, lower GDP growth and ongoing concern of trade wars and tariffs. Fixed income has been problematic with rising interest rates throughout the year. BlackRock has acted as a great compliment to JPMorgan and Amundi Pioneer in the current market. Moore restated the importance of the presence of long/short portfolio managers during down markets for protection and possible positive returns. Target retirement funds are performing in line with their global and fixed income exposure.
